USS Liberty Truth Campaign: New Flier

On the eighth day of June, 1967, the United States military had already been embroiled in the Vietnam war for several years and more than 100 soldiers a week were being killed in action — and many more than that were being wounded. The Israelis were fighting their neighbors in the so-called Six-Day War that day as well, so that news, as well as news of all the civil unrest caused by the so-called "civil rights movement" in the US, provided plenty of fodder for the news cycle, so Americans hardly noticed that the attack on the Liberty — an outrageous attempted false flag attack by the Jews on a US Navy intelligence ship in which there were 205 American casualties — was barely mentioned, then quickly covered up, and the Liberty's crew immediately "gagged" — not allowed to talk to anyone about the incident. The enclosed flier tells the story of this Jewish treachery and of the cover-up that followed.

By the time National Alliance members and supporters receive this May issue of the BULLETIN there may still be a few days left before June 8, 2017 — the 50th anniversary of the attack — and it is appropriate to distribute this new flier at any time. It would be most effective to send or hand out these fliers this anniversary month, even if after the eighth. There is time enough to duplicate and disseminate the enclosed timely flier far and wide. National Vanguard Books, Inc., Dissolved

The National Alliance got out of the skinhead music business in 2013 when Resistance Records (RR) was sold by then-Chairman Erich Gliebe. By that time National Vanguard Books (NVB) had been so poorly managed and neglected that there was no active Web site, much less a paper catalog, much less a database of former book buyers had their been a catalog or Web site. The NVB warehouse that had been shared with RR for years was not operational — no plumbing, no electricity, no shipping department — and no staff, had things been operational. Because there is no ventilation or natural illumination in that warehouse there are problems with mildew, and no way presently to properly dehumidify the space and its contents. NVB had not kept up and adapted to radical innovations in the online bookselling industry and could no longer compete, even with its own published books, because of the appearance of literally thousands of pirated editions of NVB titles that undercut NVB's retail prices. No one had been watching the store.

The last lone employee of NVB was Mr. Gliebe's so-called business manager — more like business mangler — Patrick Martin. The evidence left behind persuades us that Martin is a thief, but there is little that can be done about that theft today. There is, however, the very real and current matter of the more than $20,000 in taxes, including penalties and interest, that NVB owes to the Internal Revenue Service — left over from the final years Mr. Martin was "managing" things (2011, 2012, 2013, and the first quarter of 2014). Chairman Williams has been practicing "the art of the deal," so to speak, with various departments within the IRS about this debt for more than two years. A deal was eventually struck with that agency that the entire tax debt would be declared "non-collectable" on one condition: that NVB, Inc., be dissolved, that is, be unincorporated permanently. Since the NVB name is essentially moribund, and since a fresh start is needed to bring the Alliance's books and other materials to a changed marketplace anyway, there is no downside to doing that.

An NVB board meeting was held and the directors voted to accept the IRS's offer and move to dissolve the corporation. The official state record of the dissolution is shown below. The post office box and bank account were closed. NVB had no actual assets, with the Cosmotheist Community Church owning the warehouse and the National Alliance retaining any and all intellectual property. The National Alliance will continue to publish worthy works

Shopping Cart System

It was announced in the April BULLETIN that the National Alliance's organizational Web site, http://natall.com, would soon be adding a shopping cart to its online store. The purchase of the software and the intricacies of installing it are now nearly completed and our initial offering of around 20 items will be visible soon on the site. Some of these items will, for the first time, be purchasable directly from the National Alliance, rather than having to go through Amazon.com and giving them a considerable percentage of the sale simply for using their platform. Keep an eye out for a new "shop" link to appear on our site this coming month.

We will continue to ensure, of course, that our titles will continue to be available on Amazon, where many millions of readers browse daily. Our presence there is now dominant with regard to our own titles: Our edition of, say, The Turner Diaries, is now the only edition allowed for sale there. All pirated editions, including those of Barricade Books, the biggest offender, have now been removed altogether — and it is the same with our other titles which had also been widely pirated, some for many years.

Special Book Offer

As Chairman Williams and an assistant have been meticulously going through books donated to the William L. Pierce Memorial Library, a good number of duplicate titles have appeared — most are the same books that were carried by National Vanguard Books in years past. In many cases, these are the very books that Dr. Pierce recommended Whites should read. You can read his recommendations here:
http://nationalvanguard.org/2017/02/a-guide-for-readers/

It would not be cost effective to try and sell these duplicate titles singly on Amazon.com or a similar Internet site. The best way to clear inventory of these titles is to share them with National Alliance members and supporters from time to time in this monthly BULLETIN. The first two lots of twelve books each are pictured on pages 4 and 5. We offer them to you for $100 for each lot, postage included. They will provide lots of great summer reading, and a good starter personal racialist library. We offer them on a first come, first served basis. Please send an email to Chairman Williams at:

to claim your set. Make your checks payable to National Alliance, memo: WLP Library Fund.

Report From the Mountain

The middle of May marked one year since Laura Lee and I moved to The Land. In that time we have had our ups and downs.

When we arrived last May, the gate house where we were to reside was being illegally occupied; we had trespassers on the property constantly. Three hostile neighbors — two of whom had been staffers fired previously by Chairman Williams — were trying anything they could to get us to leave our new home.

Lot #1 (L-R): Spengler's Decline of the West; Hitler's Mein Kampf (Murphy translation); Lenski's New Science of Man; Findley's They Dare to Speak Out; War and the Breed by Jordan; By Way of Deception by Ostrovsky; The Druids by Piggott; The Celts by Powell; The Origins of The Second World War by Taylor; Wolfe's The Painted Word; Rushton's Race, Evolution & Behavior, and The Naked Ape by Morris

All three had been served with no trespassing notices by the county sheriff. They were working not only with the NARRG grouplet (they of the protracted $2 million lawsuit against the National Alliance), they were also working with the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC), whose openly stated goal is to shut down our organization.

The situation was stressful and potentially explosive. Chairman Williams had already been arrested twice on bogus violations of temporary protective orders filed by these miscreants — the existence of which orders he was totally unaware at the time. Despite these difficulties, and others, (the 500-year flood in June, for one) we were able to plant and harvest a successful garden, process and store our game meat, make improvements and repairs to Alliance buildings and staff dwellings, and clear over-grown areas of the property long ignored. We have responsibly harvested timber to pay our bills and continue to do so. In honor and remembrance of our founder's birthday, we held the first real National Alliance meeting on the property in a decade this past September 10. By then, we had retaken possession of our gate house from the hostile squatters, restoring the integrity of all National Alliance and Cosmotheist Community property.

Lot #2 (L - R): German Myths and Legends by MacRenzie; By Way of Deception by Ostrovsky; An Eye For An Eye by Sack; The Wolf of the Kremlin by Kahan; The Bell Curve by Herrnstein and Murray; Ellul's Propaganda; Secret Relationship Between Blacks and Jews by Nation of Islam; Animal Farm and 1984 by Orwell; Race, Evolution & Behavior by Rushton, and Sex Versus Civilization by Pendell

We've also made solid inroads into the local community. We shop at the local stores instead of Walmart in Lewisburg. We buy meat and produce locally instead of buying from a corporate chain store. We try to keep as much of our business local because buying local means buying from our people: White people. After 32 years of being headquartered in Pocahontas County, the National Alliance has come to be accepted by many locals, while still seen as "nazi" and skinhead bogeymen by the more easily suggestible, Politically Correct elements in the county. (Remember, although West Virginia is a conservative, mostly White state, it is still Democrat, as is Pocahontas County.)

Many of the legal problems that plagued the Alliance in May of last year have already been won or dismissed. As our chairman predicted, the NARRG suit was dismissed — with prejudice. The Internet is still full of anonymous voices howling at the National Alliance and its leadership — but, then, isn't it always?

This year, once again, we will be growing our vegetables, raising our chickens, adding beehives, and rebuilding our facility. We are learning how to self-sustain ourselves completely, though we aren't there yet. It will take years to hone and develop our skills sufficiently, but a self-sustaining White community is our goal; to break free of the "machine" and build our intentionally White Cosmotheist Community on the land where William Pierce walked; the land we call White Zion. — David Pringle, Chief of Staff and Caretaker of the National Alliance West Virginia campus

Gentlemen: I just listened to your May 20 American Dissident Voices broadcast about the USS Liberty. Astonishing! I knew of the Liberty, but didn't realize the extent to which [President Lyndon Baines] Johnson was involved. While his actions, or more likely inaction, could be explained away as his being "afraid of the Jews," there is much evidence that he was Jewish himself, with Jewish roots on both sides of his family tree. That seems a more apt explanation for such subhuman and despicable behavior. I wouldn't be surprised if he had foreknowledge of the event or that he was on the phone with the Israeli prime minister, giving him his blessing even as our men were being blasted into oblivion. — E.Z.N., via the Internet

Greetings: With reference to your article about Elizabeth Dilling published May 8th on National Vanguard — Wow! An amazing woman. I wonder why I've never heard of her until now? I learn something I didn't know before each and every time I visit National Vanguard, and I want to thank you all, so very much, from the depths of my heart. I'm going to research Elizabeth Dilling on my own now. It's such a travesty that the figures our people most need to be aware of have been (((memory-holed))). — J.B., via the Internet

A trend on the Internet is for triple parentheses to be placed around the names, or, in this case, the actions, of Jews. Read more about the possibility of President Lyndon Johnson being of Jewish ancestry here: http://nationalvanguard.org/2017/05/jewish-site-claims-lbj-was-a-jew/

Hi Will: Sorry I haven't gotten back to you before this. I have been pondering the pros and cons of rejoining the Alliance, and I have decided not to at this time. Judging from the information you related to me at our meeting, it seems to me that it would be pointless to rejoin at this time. With all the infighting and Dr. Pierce gone it seems the time for the Alliance has past [sic]. There is no point in riding a lame horse. Our generation has made many errors in leadership as well as judgment and the effects of them are only now becoming apparent. It falls on the next generation to bear the brunt of our hubris. That is where our efforts should be directed if there is to be any hope for our survival as a race and people. Thank you for your time and effort. I wish you all the best in the future. — J.J., Tennessee

Chairman Williams responds: Defeatist! My assessment upon having a sit-down lunch with J.J. is that he is a talker, but not a very good listener.

Dear Chairman Williams: I am confident in your abilities and judgment. The Alliance is fortunate to have you as Chairman. The William L. Pierce Memorial Library is fabulous! I'm glad you got those library collections (March 2017 BULLETIN). It would have been a tragedy to lose them. Dr. Pierce's library was one of the reasons I kept supporting the National Alliance under Erich Gliebe. He sure had me fooled.

Our Alliance's West Virginia campus is and will be a positive example for White people and will give them confidence that we have the will to separate ourselves and be self-reliant. I see many healthy young White families moving to rural areas from the cities where the situation is not good. They are getting their children away from the unnatural urban/suburban rot... Keep up the great work! — S.R., Virginia

Greetings, National Alliance: I've known about you people since the 1990s when I first read The Turner Diaries, followed shortly by Hunter. I have read many of your works in the past and was interested then, but remained loyal to my brothers in the Church of Aryan Nations that I'd belonged to. As you know, Aryan Nations was doomed with the [Southern Poverty Law Center] lawsuit, followed by the death of Pastor Butler. I had lost faith and trust by then and decided to be a lone wolf, and have remained an independent Aryan man since, with no labels or membership with any organizations. I have always been a man of science and mathematics and feel these two areas of knowledge encompass everything on earth. This explains why I was delighted when I recently checked on the National Alliance to find that the views of the National Alliance are the same as my own. My future wife and I own our own construction and painting company now, but my background previously consisted mostly of farming. We had our own six-acre poultry operation before moving back to the city last year to make more money. We also have broad experience with gardening on a larger scale than most.

Thank you for your time and positive commitment that give hope to families such as mine... Sincerely, — J.C., Illinois

Chairman Williams responds: The National Alliance staff appreciates your confidence in our management, J.C. and S.R. Thank you. Getting our families out of darkening cities and into more healthful White rural environments is a good start toward removing ourselves from negative alien influences. J.C., it's always nice to see a member check the little "Yes" box on the Membership Survey form beside the question, "Would you consider relocating to do Alliance work?" — especially from one with the skills you have. We'll talk.

Commentary by Chairman William White Williams

Our Alliance and the Law

In the April BULLETIN I wrote that this May issue would probably be mailed a little late so that results of the two West Virginia appeal trials in Circuit Court that were scheduled for 1 June could be reported. Unfortunately, my accuser needed yet another pre-trial hearing to make yet another rather novel but futile motion to dismiss the lower court's order that she either return items that she stole from me or pay me the items' adjudged value: $2,200. As expected, her motion was not granted, but I had to make a trip to West Virginia for that — and for another pre-trial hearing where it was decided that now both appeal rials are docketed for the afternoon of 21 June, with Defendant Corse's appeal of the lower court's order heard first, then my appeal of the misdemeanor assault conviction, with reference to which Ms. Corse has claimed in three ex parte letters to the judge that I "attempted homicide" against her. Her two "witnesses" to that assault will not be there to help the special prosecutor that she demanded be appointed because she didn't think I would be convicted again with the county's prosecutor in place. One witness, her most recent employer John McLaughlin, is dead, and the other, her former boyfriend Michael Oljaca, has returned to New York City for good, washing his hands of her convoluted, half-baked coup attempt that he eventually described as "the nightmare."

The National Alliance's amended counterclaim against John McLaughlin's estate is moving forward slowly. These things take time when courts are involved. It's the same with the McCorkill bequest to the National Alliance that was denied by a Canadian court, which is soon to come to a close after several years of wrangling in courts with Canadian Jewish organizations, who received help from the US-based "hate" watchdogs at the Southern Poverty Law Center. It is expected that the National Alliance will be reimbursed for significant funds expended to manage Dr. McCorkill's estate during the 13 years since he died. What is left of Dr. McCorkill's bequest can be used to pay for some of the most pressing Alliance projects that have been put on hold because of the three civil suits brought against the Alliance by disgruntled former members. Defending ourselves against those lawsuits — the $2 million one filed by the NARRG grouplet, and the ones Corse had Oljaca, then McLaughlin, file — has cost us in excess of $40,000 in legal expenses.

If we were better funded I would pursue legal action against Barricade Books for the tens of thousands of dollars owed to the National Alliance for all of its unauthorized publication and sales of The Turner Diaries during the past two decades. I'm told by two knowledgeable attorneys that we have an excellent copyright infringement case, including a high probability of an award of significant punitive damages.

Court battles are not something I relish, but when sued the worst thing one can do is nothing. That is how Erich Gliebe nearly lost the NARRG lawsuit: by not taking the bogus NARRG claim seriously and defending against it. We must defend and aggressively countersue when we are in the right and so much is at stake. That is what we have been doing for more than two years now and we have been prevailing because we have been in the right in each and every case, contrary to what our detractors may say on their Internet blogs and discussion boards.

So, let us do what is achievable with the meager funds we have available. This month's National Alliance USS Liberty Truth campaign is affordable, and with the help of everyone reading this BULLETIN to spread the truth contained in the enclosed flier, we make progress. Try to recruit new Alliance supporters and members, especially attorneys, paralegals, and law students, who are willing to help with legal issues as they arise. We are engaged in a war and, like it or not, one front of that war is going to continue to be in courtrooms.
